

Austin Seminary Archives, Stitt Library

MATHER (WALLACE H.) ESSAYS, circa late 19th century

Descriptive Summary

Title: Wallace H. Mather essays

Dates: circa late 19th century

Accession Number(s): 2011-005

Extent: ½ inch

Language: Materials are written in English.

Biographical Note:

Nothing conclusive is known about Wallace H. Mather, the owner of this journal. Research by the archivist relating to Mather is available upon request.

Scope and Contents:

This collection consists of a handwritten journal containing essays, often on religious topics. The book is inscribed "property of Wallace H. Mather" and also has the name "C.H. Voorhis" on the cover page. A list of the essay titles is provided in the inventory below. Several pages at the back of the journal are written in different handwriting and include a treatise titled "Joining Church" that references the writings of Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler (1822-1909). The presumed age of the journal is based on this reference.

It is unclear how this volume came to the Austin Seminary Archives. It was found in the Library Director's office in 1993 but had apparently been in the Stitt Library for some time before that.

Processing Information:

Processed by Kristy Sorensen, Archivist, June 2011.

Restrictions:

Journal is fragile, please handle with care. Materials are available by appointment only. Contact the archivist for details.

Index Terms:

Mather, Wallace H.

Preferred Citation: Wallace H. Mather essays, circa late 19th century, Austin Seminary Archives, Stitt Library, Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary

Inventory:

Box	Contents
C125	Handwritten journal: "Change" "The Rock and the Iceberg" "Lessons from the Flowers" "Psalm XXX" "Hebrews VI:11-12" "The Character and Consummation of Christian Love, Colossians I: 4-5" "Joining [?] Church," [in a different hand than the other essays]