Finding and Accessing Austin Seminary DMin Projects

At Stitt Library

Paper copies of all Austin Seminary DMin projects are located on the 2nd floor of Stitt Library under call number BV 4070.A8. DMin projects don’t circulate but they can be browsed and used in the library. Some projects are also available on microfiche.

You can browse the DMin projects in the online catalog with a keyword search for “dmin.” To browse DMin projects through Sophi Search, use the Library Catalog tab or limit to “Austin Seminary / SSW Library Catalog,” then do a keyword search for “dmin.”

To search for a project on a specific topic, use the advanced search feature to combine a search for “dmin” with a search for another keyword or other term. If you know the title or author of the project you are looking for, you can do a regular title or author search in the catalog to find the project. This will work in either the library catalog or Sophi Search, but in Sophi Search you will also need to limit to the “Austin Seminary / SSW Library Catalog.”
Through ProQuest
DMin projects submitted from 2013 to the present are available as PDF files through ProQuest. To access ProQuest, go to the library homepage and click on the Research Tools link on the left:

Then scroll down to “Austin Seminary Sermons and DMin projects” and find the link for ProQuest Dissertations & Theses.

Journals (more information)
EBSCO Journal Title Search | Chronicle of Higher Education | JSTOR: Religion and Theology archive collection | The New York Times [First time logging in]

Austin Seminary Sermons and DMin projects (more information)
Austin Seminary Sermons on iTunesU [Launch iTunesU] [How to access iTunesU] | ProQuest Dissertations & Theses | TRAVN (Theological Research Exchange Network)

More theological research help (more information)
Theological Web Resources | Research Help: How-tos and the research process
If you are on campus, you will be directed to the ProQuest page immediately. If you are off campus, you will need to login using your seminary credentials.

Once you are in the ProQuest site, you can search within the recent Austin Seminary DMin projects by title, author, keyword, or subject.
When you find a project of interest, you can view an abstract, preview, or the full text online. You also have the option of purchasing a print copy.

Through TREN
DMin projects submitted from the late 1990s through 2012 are indexed in the Theological Research Exchange Network (TREN). To search these 99 projects, go to www.tren.com and click on “Advanced Search.”

In the Search for Theses/Dissertations section, use the drop down menu to select Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary as the school. You can also search by title, author, or year of degree.

You will only be able to access abstract information about the projects through TREN, but you are also given the option of purchasing a paper or electronic copy of the project.

If you have questions, please contact us at libraryiq@austinseminary.edu.